FEDERAL FINANCE MINISTER TO VISIT VICTORIA

Farmers Incorporate To Keep Politics Out of Institutes

Advisory Board Will Seek Grant But Will Resist Efforts of Government to Gain Control and Rob Organization of Independence; Minister Ignored Board in Bringing Down Legislation at Last Session, Says New Secretary.

To defeat efforts of the Provincial Government to deprive the Advisory Board of the Farmers' Institutes of Independence, papers are being prepared to-day for incorporation of the board under the Societies Act.

A. B. Smith of Cranbrook, newly-appointed secretary to the advisory board, in association with W. J. Bonavia, secretary to the Department of Agriculture, this morning drafted preliminary documents to give effect to the decision of a meeting held in Vancouver last week, at which all members of the board except Dr. Bamford of Nechaco Valley attended.

"It is my opinion, which I believe is held by all the members of the advisory board, that the incorporation of the outlying districts of British Columbia will never fully understand the debt they owe C. E. Whitney-Griffiths for the work he has done in the last ten years to advance the interests of the small farmers in the distant new settlements," said Mr. Smith. "It is all very well for the rich farmer of the Fraser Valley to oppose the Government, and there is nothing lost by the organized Okanagan fruit growers if they fight the powers that be. The small fellows, if they have not confidence in the Farmers' Institutes as being truly independent of leading strings, will fall away and join the United Farmers or the B.C. Farmers' Union, or the B.C. Farmers' Association, for that is in effect what a moneyless man becomes when he turns against the Government," said Mr. Smith.

One of the major matters on which the Advisory Board desires independence is the right to elect its own secretary and independently when the Legislature is in session. "It was for this reason that the board insisted upon the right to name its own secretary," said Mr. Smith. As an instance of the lack of co-operation by the present Government, Mr. Smith states that agricultural legislation was introduced to the House by the Minister of Agriculture in such a way as to prevent the advisory board from making its accustomed formal representations before the agricultural committee. As a result, nothing was done on legislation of importance to the small farmers, though the larger and wealthier agricultural interests of the Fraser Valley and the Okanagan were accorded Government attention.

COYOTE BOUNTY
An instance of the grievances of pioneer districts was cited in abolition of the summer bounty on coyotes. "We want to kill off the young animals. The older coyotes are too wise to invade chicken yards. Abolition of this summer bounty means little saving. All the Government paid last year, at $7.50 per head, was $17,000, of which a substantial sum was recovered by sale of skins. In the last year of the $2 year-around bounty, the Province paid out $44,000. Mr. Smith pointed out, declaring the matter very serious with stockmen.

SEE FREEDOM
With incorporation expected shortly, the advisory board will this fall apply to Hon. William Aikman for a grant similar to that made the Stockmen's Association. "Beyond that point the Minister will tell the secretary to soft pedal some matter the Government wants dropped. That is the real reason why we opposed the effort of the Government to have the secretary to the advisory board named from the civil service," he said.

Germany Increases Its Duties On Grain
Berlin, July 2.—A semi-official communication has been issued explaining the farm relief measure recently adopted by the Reichstag. Effective July 10, the duty on wheat will be raised to six and one-half marks on flour and oats to six marks and on rye to thirteen marks for countries with which Germany has commercial treaties. For other countries, like Canada and Australia, the duties will be about one mark higher.

The tariffs on fodder, barley and maize will remain unchanged.

FLAG DAY CELEBRATION AT THE PEACE ARCH AT BLAINE

Bellingham, July 2.—Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Premier of British Columbia, and Dr. E. T. Mathes of Bellingham will be the principal speakers today at the annual Flag Day programme to be presented at the Peace Arch at Blaine by the International Flag Day Association.

A flag exchange between young Canadian and United States citizens and a solo by the 100-piece Canadian National Juvenile Band will be featured. The programme will begin at 1:30 p.m. with athletic contests and the flag ceremony will start at 3 o'clock.

Troops Landing At Maple Bay From Warships to "Save" Victoria

H.M.S. COLOMBO
Flagship of the fleet which carried the Canadian Expeditionary Force to Maple Bay Saturday, is shown at anchor in harbor after the troops had disembarked. The wooded hills of Salt Spring Island are in the background while near the stern of the Colombo can be seen the Thetis which conveyed part of the Victoria contingent. The soldiers are shown in the foreground adjusting their equipment after landing.

Portland Canal Railway Changes Hands and New Possibilities Are Opened

Vancouver, July 2.—The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company has purchased the Canadian North-eastern Railway from the Vancouver Holdings Ltd.

The deal, pending for several weeks, was finally concluded this morning, and at 2:30 this afternoon the new owners held a meeting and elected the following directors, all officials well known in connection with the Consolidated Smelters: J. W. Warren, Ronald C. Crowe, Selwyn G. Blaylock, Thomas W. Bingley and William Munro Archibald.

About two years ago the Vancouver Holdings Limited, of which Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P. for Vancouver Centre, is president, purchased all the interests of Sir Donald Mann in the Canadian Northeastern Railway. These interests consisted of all the outstanding bonds of the railway, about $500,000 worth, and all the stock issued, with the exception of a few shares held by individuals. Associated with Mr. Stevens and the Vancouver Holdings Limited were certain financial interests in London whose attention Mr. Stevens obtained during a trip to England.

ANNOUNCEMENT AWAITED
No announcement has been made by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company as to its intentions in regard to immediate developments, but it is reasonable to expect as it proceeds with the work on the George Copper property that the first step would be to extend the road to that property.

Purchase by the Consolidated of the railway will give lively speculation to the possibility of the Canadian Pacific Railway, through the Consolidated, giving the Peace River area railway connection with the coast. In such event undoubtedly the Pacific Great Eastern Railway would be an important factor, extension of that road opening up valuable new territory through the Canadian Northwest.

MAN DROWNS HIMSELF AT SEA

F. Tangone Ends Life After Stabbing Young Woman on California Ship

Seattle, July 2.—A radio report to The Seattle Times to-day from the steamship Times Alexander said tragedy had been a masquerade party aboard the vessel last night as Frank Tangone stabbed and seriously wounded Miss Lela M. Caudill, Seattle nurse, and then jumped overboard and was lost at sea.

For an hour searchlights played over the water before the search for Tangone was abandoned.

Passengers said attentions of Tangone had been spurned by Miss Caudill and that Tangone's act came after he had learned she cared for someone else.

The Ruth Alexander was off the coast of northern California at the time. The vessel was due in San Francisco late to-day from Seattle.

The stabbing was done about 8:30 p.m. just as passengers were preparing for the masquerade party, such as is held on each voyage of the steamer.

Miss Caudill was on her way to California for a vacation. She was under the care of the ship's doctor to-day, her condition being reported serious.

BALLPLAYER BELIEVED TO BE DROWNED

Doug May, Who Played Against Sons of Canada, Falls Overboard

Companions Awakened By Shout; Search Fails to Reveal Missing Man

Returning to Vancouver last night aboard the Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Mary after playing in a doubleheader yesterday with the Vancouver Firemen's baseball team against the Victoria Sons of Canada Club, Doug May, aged twenty-eight, popular third baseman of the Firemen, is believed to have lost his life in the waters off Mayne Island when he fell overboard as he leaned on the rail of the steamer.

May, a married man and the father of two children, had played with the club since it was organized three years ago, being one of the most popular members of the team. Local fans and players who witnessed and played against May yesterday at the Royal Athletic Park were shocked on learning of the tragedy.

May and two fellow members of the team had given up their stateroom to a number of women who were unable to obtain berths aboard the vessel. The three, Nick Craig, Arne Miller and May, were awakened by a cry from the water, without effect, however.

The cry which awakened Miller and Craig also was heard by A. W. Atwell, a steward, who was on the deck below. He hurried to the second deck to ascertain the cause of the alarm and joined the two in the search for May.

A thorough search of the water in the vicinity proved of no avail. The vessel was about half or three-quarters of a mile from the shore of Mayne Island, approaching Active Pass, and it is possible, but not probable, that May was able to reach the island. He was not considered a strong swimmer, however.

AWAKENED BY CRY
Craig and Miller dozed off and were awakened about 1:30 by a scream. They could not find the companion so reported to the ship's master. The vessel was stopped and the searchlight turned on the water, without effect, however.

Past Offers Guidance To New Canada

Dr. H. T. J. Coleman Reminds Dominion Day Meeting of Canada's Leaders

Victoria's celebration of Dominion Day closed last night with a well attended public meeting at Parliament Square, where Dr. H. T. J. Coleman, of the University of British Columbia, spoke of the progress made by Canada in sixty-two years and the promising outlook awaiting the Canada of the future.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie presided at the meeting, and R. R. Webb led the community singing.

"Dominion Day is our national holiday. It is the celebration of a great political event, the uniting of widely separated provinces into a glorious whole. These Fathers of Confederation—Macdonald, Tupper, Brown, Cartier, and the others—built better than we knew. As a result of Confederation, the provinces of the Dominion have become stronger and the British connection is stronger," said Dr. Coleman.

No more inspiring setting could be found for such a patriotic gathering on July 1 than Victoria. Here, before us, is one of the finest legislative structures in Canada, if not on the whole continent. We are facing the Pacific ocean, on which the destiny of Canada largely lies. We have the tradition of a noble city and a noble Province; the inspiration of a bright future, the beauty of lovely flowers about us, and joy and gladness in our hearts."

Dr. Coleman spoke of the early history of the country, touching upon the contribution made to the development of Canada by the explorers, fur traders, missionaries and pioneers, who, by their courage and foresight, their devotion and sacrifices, laid the foundations of this great nation, and who gave their lives so that "we can live in peace and enjoy the privileges that are ours."

Heavy Travel Over Holiday

C.P.R. Operates Six Steamers Between Victoria and Vancouver Last Night

All Ferries Carried Capacity Loads of Passengers and Motor Cars

Surpassing all expectations, travel between Victoria and other Island points and the Mainland was exceptionally heavy over the Dominion week-end, all steamers and ferries carrying capacity loads of passengers and motor cars.

So heavy was travel between Victoria and Vancouver that the C.P.R. was forced to operate six steamers on the midnight service last night. Every available berth was taken and many passengers were forced to sit up all night aboard the different steamers.

The Princess Louise, the Princess Mary and the Princess Royal took the midnight sailings from Victoria to Vancouver last night, and the Princess Maquinna, the Princess Victoria and the Charming sailed from Vancouver to Victoria.

The new Sidney-Stevedore ferry service maintained by the Motor Princess, was tested and carried large numbers of passengers and cars. It proved a popular route for people traveling between Victoria and Vancouver, who wished to use the motor.

Capt. C. D. Neroutos, manager of the coast service of the C.P.R., expressed himself this morning as well satisfied with the new service.

The Edmonds-Victoria ferry steamer City of Victoria also did a big business over the holiday and on all round 500 for the three days carried large numbers of passengers and motors.

This morning also there was a large number of cars aboard the Victoria and it is expected that travel will keep up until after July 4, the national holiday in the United States.

Crash Ends Flight
Metropolitan Airport, Los Angeles, July 2.—The emergency flight record attempt of the Cessna monoplane piloted by Leo Nomis and Maurice Morrison ended abruptly after 42 hours, 5 minutes of flying at 1:05 a.m. to-day when the motor stalled and the craft crashed at the edge of the airport. The injuries of the fliers and the damage to the plane were reported slight.

Doukhobor Schools Guarded After Fires

Nelson, B.C., July 2.—School buildings in the Doukhobor communities are guarded to-day as a result of the burning down of the Doukhobor schools early last Saturday morning. Two school buildings at Glade and one at Brilliant were destroyed by fires of incendiary origin at approximately the same hour. Provincial police state there have been no further outbreaks.

VANCOUVER THUGS CARRY OFF SAFE

One Piggly-Wiggly Store Robbed of $750 and Another of Quantity of Merchandise

Vancouver, July 2.—Breaking into the Piggly-Wiggly store at 2896 West Broadway last Sunday night, thieves carried off the office safe, which contained $750. The shopkeepers entered by forcing a window in a locked washroom and cutting a panel out of a door that led to the office. An auto truck was used to carry the safe away. The Piggly-Wiggly store at 3175 Blenheim Street also was broken into and looted of a quantity of merchandise. The exact extent of the loss is not yet known.

LARGE AREA OF OCEAN BED RISES DURING EARTHQUAKES

Wellington, N.Z., July 2.—The ocean bed at the white cliffs of Karamaea was reported to-day to have risen nearly 100 feet over a distance of about a mile since the recent earthquakes. The width of the stretch varies, but it is about 500 yards on an average. Opposite this rise in the ocean bed a great cavity appeared on the mainland. It is approximately 100 feet deep with an area of hundreds of square yards. The land adjoining was badly torn up.

Karamaea is on the west coast of the south island.

FOR PEACE NEW
PREMIER'S PLEA

the latter part of the reign of Queen Victoria, had the British Parliament been opened before by commissioners.

MEMBERS SUMMONED

Baron Sankey, Lord Chancellor, was leading as the five Lords Commissioners took their seats. On their right were the Archbishop of Canterbury and six other lords spiritual.

"Let the Commons know," said Lord Sankey, raising his three-cornered hat, "that the Lords Commissioners desire their immediate attendance in this House."

The Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod departed with his message and even in that three was a difference from a state opening, for in the message from the Throne the King "commands" the Commons to attend. A few moments later the members of the Lower House were at the bar of the House of Lords to hear Lord Sankey read the opening speech.

The first King's speech in British history prepared by a Labor Government was then read, occupying just ten minutes. A feature of it was the almost insistent way in which it was emphasized the new Government was working in consultation with the Dominions.

ELECTORAL CHANGES

The speech closed with an intimation that the Government was preparing to forestall the expected Liberal demand for electoral reform.

The Labor Party had already indicated measures might be introduced requiring declaration of the sources of campaign funds and details of their expenditure, while the Liberal Party complains it is handicapped without any scheme of proportional representation. At this point the address announced schemes were being prepared for improvement of transport, stimulation of the depressed export trade, economic development of overseas dependencies, improvement of agriculture and the fishing industry and improvement of the facilities for marketing the farm and fisheries outputs.

COAL MINING CHANGES

"My Government," continued the speech, "have under consideration the question of reorganization of the coal industry, including hours and other factors, and of ownership of minerals. Proposals to this end will be submitted in due course."

"Inquiries will be undertaken immediately into the condition of the iron and steel and cotton industries in order to discover means of co-operating with them to improve their position in the markets of the world."

"Bills will be laid before you for amending existing factory legislation and for giving effect to obligations entered into in Washington in 1919."

Legislation was promised at this point in the speech for alum clearance and to provide for housing in rural and urban areas.

LIQUOR LEGISLATION

"My Ministers," the address continued, "have decided the time has come to investigate the whole field of legislation relating to sale and supply of intoxicating liquor and on their recommendations I propose to appoint an early date commissioners for this purpose."

Mention was made of the survey for national insurance and pension schemes and it was stated a bill was being prepared to amend the widows' and orphans' and old age contributory pensions act. A measure also would be introduced to remedy the situation caused by the Trades Dispute and Trade Union Act of 1927.

ELECTORAL REFORM

The speech concluded: "At the recent general election an extended franchise placed in the hands of the whole of my people of adult years the grave responsibility of guarding the well-being of this nation as a constitutional democracy and my Government proposes to institute an examination of the results of the election so the working of the law relating to parliamentary elections may be brought into conformity with new conditions."

TEXT OF SPEECH
The Speech from the Throne as read by the Lord Chancellor was as follows: "While I regret it is not possible to address you in person, I thank Almighty God that I can look forward with confidence to that complete restoration of health for which prayers of my people throughout the Empire, with sympathy and affection which call forth my deepest gratitude, were offered during the months of my long and serious illness."

"My relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly. The independent financial experts appointed to draw up proposals for complete and definite settlement of the German reparations problem presented a unanimous report which is at present being considered by my Government in preparation for a conference of representatives of the Governments concerned."

DISARMAMENT DISCUSSION
"Conversations have commenced with the Ambassador of the United States of America on the subject of general disarmament, in consequence of which it is the earnest hope of my Government to insure, in co-operation with my governments in the Dominions, the Government in India and the Government of the foreign powers, an early reduction in armaments throughout the world."

"My Government considers the time has come to submit to judicial settlement international disputes in which parties are in conflict as to their respective rights. For this purpose, they are now consulting with my Governments in the Dominions and the Government of India regarding the signing of the optional clause embodied in the statutes of the Permanent Court of International Justice."

RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA
My Government is examining the conditions under which diplomatic relations with the Government of the Union of Soviet Republics may be resumed and is in communication with my Governments in the Dominions and the Government of India on the subject."

"Estimates for the public service will be laid before you. It will be the foremost endeavor of my Ministers to deal with unemployment."

London, July 2.—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, former Conservative Prime Minister, speaking in the debate on the reply to the Speech from the Throne declared he and his followers would offer no factious opposition to the new Labor Government. They intended, he said, to assist His Majesty's government in being carried on, but demanded a certain amount of self-control on both sides.

THE INVINCIBLE JONES

ALTHOUGH WE ALL LIKE TO BE loyal to our favorites, even to the point of prejudice, when we come to consider the case of Bobby Jones there is only one thing to be said—and it can be said with abundant truth—he is in a class by himself as a golf champion. For the third time he has won the United States Open title and added one more triumph to his string of major victories.

Two outstanding surprises marked the contest which came to an end yesterday. One was Jones's seventy-nine on Saturday and the other was the manner in which he overwhelmed Espinosa in the play-off. They had tied for first place and it was assumed that there would be very few strokes between them after their cards had been marked. Instead of which, the best the loser could do was 164 for the thirty-six holes, against the winner's 141—a margin of twenty-three strokes.

It long ago was clearly established that Jones possesses the complete equipment for a champion golfer—the right temperament and the capacity to ally it with perfect shot-making. Nor does there seem to be any difference of opinion among his amateur and professional colleagues about his prowess. They have given up trying to understand why he is just a little bit better than the rest.

Incidentally, moreover, it is interesting to reflect that here is a game in which the best amateur has been able to beat the best professional. It is the exception from the general rule. Jones has been attending to his legal practice fairly closely for the last twelve months; but it seems to have made no difference. He still is Jones the invincible.

Admiration for Bobby Jones, of course, does not detract from the contribution to golf which the great stylist Vardon and other famous players were making before the Atlanta amateur was born. But Jones belongs to the new school in which, if the term may be used, golf demands that it be "worked at" as well as played. He and others have proved that intensive practice pays well.

NOT A PRIVATE DOCUMENT

PREMIER TOLMIE SAYS THE INTERIM report on the administration of the lands of the University of British Columbia is a private document and, consequently, may not be made available to the leader of the opposition.

The Government's own action contradicts this statement. No sooner had it received the report than it dispensed with the services of an official adversely reported upon. The report ceased to be a private document when it was acted upon.

Are we to assume that the Government does not know the difference between a private and a public document? Or is it afraid to let Mr. Pattullo see the report?

ARMAMENTS AND EMPLOYMENT

WHAT IS BEING DESCRIBED AS A hamper has been thrown over the projected naval disarmament between Premier MacDonald, Premier King and President Hoover by the United States who are pleading that the world is not yet ready to give up the arms race. They argue that a great deal of time and money will be given to the whole proposal of negotiations are commenced. Meanwhile Prime Minister says he is engaged in the foundations of what will be a public document that any government has the honor and comfort of being responsible.

It was not unexpected. If the world hopes to prosecute the war to curtail very large industrial production the world will have to have arms and equipment. No doubt the advocates of these negotiations will be disappointed. But the world is not yet ready to give up the arms race.

There are no mere oratorical excursions into the domain of literature. The author does not collect his impressions ready-made; they are the fruits of his own meditation. Concerning the subjects more closely allied to his career, the writer is equally assured and definite in his judgments. The papers on Colonel House and Lord Beaverbrook are outstanding examples.

there 2,000 years ago in the course of some long-forgotten political campaign.

These slogans make odd reading in this day. One of them, for instance, bore the simple announcement:

"Mansa Sabinus never gets drunk."

Another advised the voters, "If you care for good bread and better games vote for Cleonius Prius." This, of course, referred to the Roman custom of furnishing free bread and gladiatorial games to the poorer citizens.

A third, somewhat rhapsodic, implored: "Vote for Julius Politus, a man as handsome as the god Apollo."

In such manner did the politicians of the age of Augustus seek to snare the votes of the citizenry.

There is a childish quality in these electioneering slogans that brings a smile. One candidate announces his personal rectitude in the matter of strong drink; another frankly appeals to the selfish interests of the proletariat, and the third simply sets himself up as a paragon of beauty and puts it up to the voters. Pondering over these slogans, it is not hard to understand why the Roman experiment in municipal government came such a woeful cropper.

Still it will not do for us to get too cheery. Some of our election slogans may look equally queer to an antiquarian a few generations hence.

THE WAY SCIENCE GAMBLER

SCIENCE, IN SOME WAYS, INDULGES in gambling on a grander scale than any other branch of human endeavor.

There was a total eclipse of the sun in the far east recently. For years in advance, British and German scientists had spent much money, and effort preparing to make observations of it. They established a base in Siam, established themselves there and waited for the day to come.

And then the sky was so cloudy that they were baffled. Not a glimpse of the eclipse did they get. Their time and money were completely wasted. There was nothing to do but go home and wait for the next one.

Who but scientists would gamble so heavily on the chance of good weather?

A WARNING FROM MR. LASKY

JESSE LASKY, ONE OF THE LEADERS of the Hollywood moving picture world, repeats once more the word of warning that Hollywood executives have sounded so often lately—that the most foolish thing a girl can do is drop her job and head for Hollywood on the chance of "breaking into the movies."

Hollywood is fairly swamped with would-be actresses, Mr. Lasky says, and the movie industry cannot begin to take care of them.

"It requires unusual ability or unusual talent for motion picture success," he warns. "Very, very few of the girls who arrive in Hollywood have either. No girl should go to Hollywood unless she has a round-trip ticket and enough money to support herself for at least six months."

There will be some, of course, who will ignore this warning, just as similar warnings have been ignored in the past. But any parents who have a movie-struck daughter—or son—would do well to cool their ardor with hard facts.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

Idle curiosity is probably the busiest thing on earth.—Montreal Herald.

It's astonishing the number of people who can tell you all about how to get rich out of yesterday's stock market.—Ottawa Journal.

Life was much simpler when a salad was a wad of lettuce instead of an arrangement in chickenweed, egg shells and olive oil.—Kingston Whig-Standard.

Mrs. Oscar Strauss, who recently escaped from a herd of elephants, a lion and a rhinoceros, no doubt has nerve enough now to cross the street when the sign is right.—Indianapolis News.

Perhaps the explanation of George Godwin's book, "Columbia or the Future of Canada," in which he predicts this country's annexation to the United States, is that he wants to make Canadians so mad that they will never, never be annexed. He has certainly angered every Canadian who has read his book.—Toronto Star.

MARTIN BURRELL, ESSAYIST
New York-Herald-Tribune Books

With a grace that is not in the least studied and with an appreciation which is not in the least assumed the Hon. Martin Burrell turns from public affairs to a consideration of poets, the philosophy of tears, golf, and the mystery of pain. These Englishmen appear to possess the faculty of keeping their sympathies broad and their interests wide; their political life is not narrowing in the American sense.

There are no mere oratorical excursions into the domain of literature. The author does not collect his impressions ready-made; they are the fruits of his own meditation. Concerning the subjects more closely allied to his career, the writer is equally assured and definite in his judgments. The papers on Colonel House and Lord Beaverbrook are outstanding examples.

ALGOMA WOLF PROBLEM
The Cornwall Freeholder

Many of us in older Ontario have been inclined to treat the wolf problem in Algoma as something of a joke. Even in the provincial legislature, where the subject has been frequently discussed, the menace has not been considered very seriously.

That the situation is grave is evident by the fact that three farmers in the district adjoining Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., are moving out with their flocks of sheep, because the wolves have made it impossible for them to carry on profitably.

Those who attempt to farm in Algoma have many serious difficulties and it is unfortunate that the wolf menace should be added to them. Those courageous men who farm there should have every encouragement. The Government might very well go into this matter more seriously and consider more effective means of meeting this menace.

A THOUGHT

A talebearer revealeth secrets; but he that is of a faithful tongue concealeth the matter.—Proverbs xi 13.
The talebearer is, at the same time, the best part of the mischief; with good government, none is more mischievous.

Loose Ends

France chooses its own heroes—and disregards government guarantees of immortality—Oklahoma tries desperately to restore the rough and ancient rolling plains. Mr. Edison reads 'em two at a time—Germany gets back her millionaires and England reports a revolution in morals.

By H. B. W.

HEROES, as Mr. Williams, the cartoonist often notes, in "Out of Way," are made, not born. The public makes its heroes and pays attention to the ideals of government and Parliaments on the subject. Never was this fact more clearly proved than by the present delicious difficulties of the Institut de France, for which all France is laughing. It is now to be a member of the Institut is supposed to be the highest honor in France can pay a writer, painter, musician, sculptor, scientist or statesman. Those lucky enough to be elected are guaranteed immortality by government decree. Besides which, each member is entitled to wear an elaborate Napoleonic costume of tail coat, knee breeches, white-plumed cocked hat and sword.

LAST winter one of the 200 members died and there was a vacancy in the Institut to be filled. You would expect a rush of eager applicants, but no. The Institut offered a prize to Vincent d'Indy, famous writer of symphonies and he retorted coolly: "I am eighty-eight years old—it is really a little late to think of me." Another musical authority, Pour Dicks, also refused and in despair the Institut turned to Maurice Ravel, thought by many to be France's greatest composer. Said M. Ravel: "But no, no, no. In a cocked hat I would look like Jackass." And to prevent such a spectacle he, too, wisely refused.

AT this humiliation of the Institut, France laughed loudly, for it loves such a joke. France has estranged the immortality of some of its governmentally-decreed immortals for some time. "Wanted," said one of the Paris papers sarcastically, "wanted a volunteer for the Institut! Come, come, gentlemen! Who wants to join the Institut? What 'he' does? It's a worthy movement! Another paper conducted a questionnaire to find whom the people of France would have put in the Institut if they had their way. When the ballots were returned it was found that France had chosen its own heroes and the cocked hat for the government and the cocked hat for the Institut. On its own heroes France, like every other nation, grants an immortality which no government and no institution can confer. History will further whittle down these names to a pitifully small group for each generation, many of them almost unknown to their contemporaries.

A PUBLIC service organization in Oklahoma, inspired by patriotic instincts, is sponsoring a notable contest in which married women will demonstrate their skill at throwing darts at a game more royal and ancient than golf itself. This has caused a great flurry and even in distant England paragraphers are making jokes about the trials of married life in the Wild and Woolley West, where men and men, and defy even the oldest of weapons. Personally, I doubt that there is much rolling pin throwing in our time. That good old custom has died out with many of the best traditions of our race in this mechanical age. Your modern woman is using the rolling pin less and less. She buys her bread, cake or whatever it is they used to make with rolling pins, ready-made. If anything has to be thrown, and doubtless this necessity has survived, even if the rolling pin hasn't, the modern woman relies on something else, probably the electric iron in this civilized era. The Oklahoma contest, therefore, is to be commended, not because it will increase the popularity of a venerable pastime, which is too much to hope for, but because it will keep alive a good old custom which is in danger of perishing altogether. It will remind our children in a still more degenerate age of the times when their race was young and virile.

SCARCELY a month passes without revealing some new wonder and faculty in Mr. Thomas Edison. The latest is his modest announcement that he always reads two lines of type at once and thus is able to read a book just twice as rapidly as anyone else. Over this discovery the American press is uttering shrill hallelujahs and the worshipper of efficiency no doubt will soon want their children taught to read in the Edisonian manner. Now, about Mr. Edison's place in history there is not much doubt. He will be in the inner circles of immortals with Galileo, Newton and the other great ones. But about Mr. Edison's place in literature there is no doubt at all. He hasn't any, for he has never sought it, and if his views on literature were consequential at all he "could not read two lines at a time." For scientific jargon, with which Mr. Edison has to deal in his busy and useful life, two at a time may be all right, but imagine Hamlet or the Ode to the West Wind on this basis of time-saving efficiency!

YET Mr. Edison's announcement will make a great impression. The magazines are full of just such interviews with scientists on aspects of life which science never approaches, with hard-boiled captains of industry on the immortality of the soul, with Mr. Ford on reincarnation. Half the readers of these things have better ideas themselves. This age is ruled by the fetish of great numbers. Once having achieved the status of a great name a man apparently becomes an authority on all manner of things which he has never studied in his life. Being great in one field, indeed, is usually a guarantee that a man has been too busy to know much about anything else.

JUST as the Allies were scaling down Germany's bill for war damage came figures showing that German business is doing so well that by 1933 there will be as many millionaires as there were in 1914. Before the war there were 17 millionaires in Germany.

KIRK'S WELLINGTON COAL

"Does Last Longer"

Germany. In 1923, after the deflation period, this number had dropped to 3,917 but last year there were twice that many and the total is growing all the time. Richest of all still is the hermit of Doorn, his wealth of $103,200,000 being administered in his absence by the Hohenzollern Family Administration. In includes eighty-one castles among other things. Hugo Stinnes came next to the Kaiser with 400,000,000 marks but this fortune has been scattered since his death. His place is taken by Frau Bertha Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach, whose fortune has now reached the pre-war figure of $72,000,000. The highest personal cash income in Germany is said to be that of Fritz Thyssen, industrial magnate, estimated at $720,000 a year. When you consider England's problems beside those facts it seems that wars nowadays are a poor investment, particularly for the winners.

DIVORCE, according to figures just issued, is increasing rapidly in British Columbia. But there is no need to grow alarmed. The family will still survive in some form or other. There will always be a need for some kind of a social unit containing members from whom the male offspring can borrow a car, and the odd necktie, and the female progeny can steal cigarettes and lipsticks. These fundamental laws of nature and economics cannot be broken even by divorce. Still, while we have this assurance, it is alarming to read in no less a paper than the staid Manchester Guardian this amazing headline: "The Parent Facing a New World—Being a Mother Though Married." With a Labor Government in power and flappers voting, it is evident to all that old England is changing its ideas; but this theory of being a mother though married, as if it were something extraordinary, as if motherhood were to be expected only under other conditions, suggests a revolution in morals that one had hardly expected, even in these enlightened times.

ART BEASLEY NEW CHAMPION

Art Beasley is the new club champion of the Victoria Golf Club. In the thirty-six-hole final played on Sunday Beasley defeated Jack Matson, defending champion, 3 and 1. The finalists put on a great battle, neither one being very far ahead at any stage of the match.

At the end of the first eighteen holes Matson was one up, but in the afternoon run Beasley played great golf to win the match and the championship. Beasley made a fine recovery in the morning round. At the twelfth he was four down, but managed to cut Matson's lead to a single hole at the eighteenth.

In the afternoon Beasley succeeded in squaring the match at the twenty-seventh and then went right ahead. The cards follow:

"Rebels" Suppressed In Cowichan Area And Troops Return

Campaign of 1929 at Maple Bay Ends in Defeat of "Rebellious Indians" and Security for Island Residents; After Three Days of Military Manoeuvres, Militia Units Sailing Homeward To-day.

(By Times "War" Correspondent)
Quamichan Lake Headquarters, Cowichan Expeditionary Force, July 2.—The battle of Maple Bay has been lost and won. This morning the tired units of the Cowichan Expeditionary Force, consisting of militia regiments from Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, embarked upon their respective transports for the return homeward.

Law and order once more prevails in this rich section of Vancouver Island following a theoretical Indian uprising which threatened to seriously affect the whole of the island, cutting off the beautiful capital of Victoria from her hinterland. After a few hours of fierce fighting Saturday afternoon and another encounter Monday, the rebellious Indians have been quelled, so the militia in this game of military tactics ruled.

Over a thousand men, all members of the 23rd Infantry Brigade, under Lieut.-Col. A. L. Coote of Vancouver, viewed this area over the week-end to engage in the war game which concluded yesterday. Four vessels of war were anchored off the usually peaceful shores of Maple Bay and seaplanes swooped overhead during the successful landing Saturday afternoon.

The rebellious Indians, represented incidentally by B Company of the Princess Patricia, Canadian Light Infantry, of Victoria, put up a strong front before the onslaught of the volunteer forces, but were eventually quelled. It was a thrilling battle while it lasted.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Camp activities, a parade to the Duncan camp and other military tactics were included in the programme which brought into action units of the Sixteenth Canadian Division, of Victoria, the First B.C. Regiment, the Canadian Seaford Highlanders, the New Westminster Regiment, the Royal Irish Fusiliers and other units of the militia.

The Sixteenth Scottish provided themselves particularly able fighters during the Saturday manoeuvres, and practically wiped out the last wing of the enemy. They also were one of the largest units in camp at Quamichan Lake.

TRANSPORT SHIP

H.M.C.S. Thelma and H.M.C.S. Armentiers, mine-sweepers stationed at Esquimalt, acted as transports for the Victoria outfit, numbering about 200 men. The Sixteenth embarked shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday morning and were soon away to sea. Black smoke poured from the funnels of the two transports as they headed off past the harbor front and towards the straits. Zig-zagging to avoid theoretical torpedoes, they made their way through the hazy and stormy scene of the Gulf Islands.

MEN AT REST

Lying out on decks the men rested in preparation for the strenuous "battle" to come. The Thelma was the flagship of the Victoria fleet, carrying Lieut.-Col. D. B. Martyn, D.S.O., M.C., and headquarters staff of the Sixteenth.

By 3 o'clock in the afternoon the transports reached the outer waters of Cowichan Bay, the approaching vessels with H.M.C.S. Vancouver and H.M.C.S. Colombo, coming from Vancouver. A sudden splash astern of both vessels induced some of the troops to raise the shout "man overboard," and a few became excited, but it proved to be only a couple of life-preservers, thrown over for the purpose of boat practice. With youngsters of the Canadian Navy as crews, boats swung out from both vessels and quickly recovered the life-preservers.

SEAPLANE SWOOPS DOWN

The first intimation of the approach of the Vancouver transports was a wireless message received on board the Thelma. A few minutes later a large seaplane from the Jericho Beach station zoomed over the hills of Salt Spring Island, and after signalling to the local vessels made a perfect landing alongside.

Within a short time the Vancouver and Colombo were in sight. Helograph messages flew backwards and forwards, flags waved and the "fleet" steamed into line, with the Colombo leading, the Vancouver second, Thelma third and Armentiers last. The seaplane took off and winged its way toward the battle area of Maple Bay.

THROUGH ROCKY CHANNELS

Through the tortuous channels of Sanum Narrows the fleet proceeded. A message from the Colombo indicated that they were approaching a "rugged and uninviting country, presumably uninhabited."

After rounding Burial Point, the Colombo steamed into harbor and dropped her anchor near the centre of the bay. The Vancouver swung off to port towards Birdseye Cove, while the Thelma and Armentiers took positions on the starboard side of the Colombo.

Little theoretical opposition was put up to the landing of the troops. The guns of the Colombo and Vancouver were in position to wipe out any "enemy" who showed themselves, while the aircraft overhead also ensured protection for the disembarking units.

MACHINE GUN FIRE

The first flight had only been ashore a few seconds however, when machine gun fire burst out from a nest about 100 yards from the beach.

Landing from the H.M.C.S. Colombo the B.C. Regiment formed the central wedge of the attack, while the 16th Scottish formed a strong right flank and the Seaford, disembarking at Birdseye Cove covered the left.

ENEMY EVACUATE

"Enemy" machine gunners were forced to evacuate the position from which they gave first shot of fire. Meanwhile the second party had landed from the ships and pushed on in support of the advance line.

With the Canadian Scottish the battle faded well. Messages by runner brought the story of an encounter with machine gunners to headquarters. No. 3 Company by careful manoeuvring had been able to creep within fifty yards of the enemy and after a short scrap had taken them out.

Telephone runners and bicycles dispatched riders were used to keep headquarters informed of the progress of the battle. As the umpires put one company after another out of action, the news was flashed back and reinforcements rushed up. The B.C. Regiment pushed through the centre along the Duncan road, while the left wing suffered the greatest number of "casualties," and made little headway against the rebels.

BATTLE "CALLED OFF"

But these militia men were working on unison hours and at 5:30 o'clock the battle was "called off." The troops had landed at 4:15 p.m. Forming up in marching order the whole brigade marched the mile and a half to the camping grounds at Quamichan Lake. Advance parties had laid out the camp and the men were welcomed with the usual for mess. After a hearty meal they soon felt rested from the "campaign."

OFFICERS AT DINNER

Both military and naval officers engaged in the scheme attended a dinner given by the 16th Canadian Scottish officers in their mess tent Saturday night. Major Gus Lyons of Victoria, C. H. Dickie, M.P., Col. Cy. Peck, V.C., C. F. Dickie, M.P., Mayor H. T. Prevost of Duncan, Rev. G. A. Tisdall, North Cowichan, and other non-combatants attended.

Several speakers at the dinner referred to the fine spirit of militia officers in volunteering their services towards the establishment of various units. Compliments paid to the navy by military officers were returned by naval men who were present.

An interesting note was brought to light by one of the speakers who commented upon the fact that for the first time since the war, Canadian soldiers engaged, Canada had won more Victoria Crosses during the Great War than any of the Allies. Four V.C. men sat at the banquet table that night, the first time he could recall such an event. They were Admiral Nugent, V.C. (retired), Captain Dobson, V.C. R.N., of H.M.S. Colombo, Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., and Lieut.-Col. C. R. Barkes, V.C., D.S.O., M.C.

A halt was called in the fighting on Sunday. Following the fighting the five miles to Duncan in the afternoon for a short service in front of the camp.

Headed by the brass band of the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish, the column made an interesting sight as it swung along the highway to marching tunes. "Casualties" on this march were greater than during the actual campaign owing to the heat which forced many of the untrained soldiers out of the line.

CENOTAPH SERVICE

The troops formed a square around the cenotaph while a member of the Sixteenth Scottish acted as each corner with arms reversed. The Duncan unit of the Canadian Legion, detachment of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides and of the Duncan branch of the I.O.G.E. joined the ceremony.

Sounding of the last post, placing of wreaths at the foot of the cenotaph by unit commanders and prayers for the royal family and for those killed in the late war constituted the short but impressive service.

SEARCHLIGHT DISPLAY

A spectacular feature of Sunday's activities was a searchlight display in Maple Bay. The H.M.C.S. Vancouver and H.M.C.S. Colombo. Beams swung through the sky, interlacing and disappearing and finally coming to rest on the sun of the Colombo with a final gesture.

Once again the battle raged yesterday afternoon. On this occasion the Sixteenth Scottish and Seaford Highlanders were the defending forces against an attack coming from the Quamichan Lake.

A detachment of seamen and marines from the Colombo pushed through on the right flank and after a spirited battle won a ridge to the west of the Crofton Road.

STIFF OPPOSITION

The central wedge was formed of the Vancouver and British Columbia Regiments who pushed along the Duncan Road, supported by the New Westminster Regiment. Stiff opposition was encountered by this party which was one of its strength into the attack before being successful.

By the time the "game" was called off, the defending forces still held the line at the most northerly section.

In this second engagement the troops understood that such heavy losses had been sustained in the first battle during the disembarking that the remaining members of the battalion returned to the H.M.C.S. Vancouver.

RESERVES BY LORRY

A mobile reserve, composed of forty men of the Royal Irish Fusiliers, riding in a standard Air Force truck, was an interesting sight of the final "scrap."

Yesterday afternoon the camp was enlivened by sports and other means of recreation. The troops turned in at night after thoroughly "enjoying" the day's work.

A shark had been following a liner for some time. It was looked upon by sailors as a sign of bad luck, a trestle was thrown at the monster in an endeavor to scare it away. But it swallowed the trestle and came on for more. A box of oranges went the same way as the trestle. Amid the general excitement, a Jew fell overboard. A sailor dived to the rescue. But it was of no avail, for the shark swallowed both.

Eventually, the shark was caught and when it was out in hope that the men might be rescued, the Jew was discovered sitting on the trestle trying to sell the oranges to his would-be rescuer.

"I suppose there are many problems which Polar explorers seek to solve," said the unscientific man.

"Yes," replied the traveler, "a great many."

"What is the most important one?" "Getting back."

UP-ISLAND COUPLE WED AT CATHEDRAL

Miss Eleanor Maud Pillar and Mr. Sidney L. Johnston Married Yesterday

Christ Church Cathedral was the scene yesterday morning at 11 o'clock of the wedding of Eleanor Maud, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Robertson Pillar of 314 Cook Street, and Mr. Sidney Johnston, only son of Mr. Alexander Main Johnston of Yakima, Wash., and the late Mrs. Johnston.

Very Rev. C. S. Quinton, Dean of Columbia, officiated. The bride entered the church with her father to the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march, played by Mr. H. F. Davis. Her bridal gown of white tulle, fashioned in simple lines, long sleeves, a bodice with lace and skirt with uneven hem, was finished at the left side with a handsome pearl ornament. Her veil of embroidered net and orange blossoms had been worn by her mother on her wedding day. She carried a shield of aurum lilies tied with silver ribbon.

There were four attendants, Miss Joyce C. R. Pillar, only sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Clara Johnston of Yakima, only sister of the groom; Miss Lillian Gertrude Ponsford of Parkville, cousin of the bride, and Miss Rene Florman. They all wore frocks of georgette in pastel shades, fashioned alike, and picture bands of silk mohair to match their gowns. They carried old-fashioned nosegays of Summer flowers in the shades of their frocks.

There were two little flower girls, Betty MacPhee and Isabelle Bishop of Alberni, cousins of the bride, who were dressed in frocks of taffeta in green and apricot shades, fashioned in Kate Grenaway style, and quaint caps of all-over lace. They carried "baskets" filled with rose petals, which they scattered before the bride and groom as they passed out of the cathedral.

The groom was supported by Mr. John Hickey of "Tynan House," Parkville, and the ushers were Messrs. Charles H. R. Pillar, only brother of the bride, Robert L. MacPhee, and John Shirley Richardson of Parkville.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 314 Cook Street, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Pillar, who was wearing a cut-velvet, in black and gold, which was worn a picture hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left on the afternoon boat for the mainland, and after a motor trip through central British Columbia will make their home at Campbell River, where the groom is engineer for the International Company. For the last year the bride has been a member of the nursing staff of the Lourdes Hospital at Campbell River.

Traveling the bride wore an ensemble frock of beige lace with a fitting hat of Italian silk hemp and tailored coat of navy blue tulle and fox fur.

Among the many out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. A. Johnston of Yakima, father of the groom; Miss Bishop of Alberni and Mr. and Mrs. MacPhee of Port Alberni. The cathedral was prettily decorated with spruce and daphnifolium by friends of the bride.

FORMER RUSSIAN NOBLE COMES WEST

Ex-Prince and Ex-Princess Galitzine of Russia on Way to British Columbia

Winnipeg, July 2—Ersaking their tumultuous native land for one more promising, Ex-Prince and Ex-Princess Galitzine of Russia passed through Winnipeg Monday night over the Canadian Pacific en route to Edmonton. They intend to take up land in western Canada—just whereabouts they have not yet decided. It is their intention to visit the Peace River and Edmonton districts, and then to continue on to British Columbia, where they will consider prospects in the Okanagan Valley and the possibility of making their home there.

Prior to his sailing on the liner Empress of Australia from Europe, the former prince, who bears papers entitling him to the position of third officer in the mercantile marine, made numerous attempts to find a European motor launch manufacturing concern which would be willing to furnish him a craft in which to cross the Atlantic. None came forward, however.

Ladies' Ready-to-Wear

Daighan has been much irritated on the subject of a new coat and, to tell the truth, the purchase is quite the event of the season, for, as a family, we cannot qualify in the matter of wealth yet, though we try to be as smart as resources will permit.

"Well," I said, as she stood ready for her chum's reader to roll up to the door, "I don't think you chose wisely and will be pleased."

"Oh! but, my dear," she admonished, "I have completely changed my mind."

"Well, it's our privilege isn't it, and often it is a wise privilege. If one insists on maintaining a sharp ascent up the pathway of life, with never a pause, progress is never very rapid, is it?"

Ann's mind was changed by the advertisements in our daily newspaper. She had only a certain sum to wage her war with odd jobs and the vagaries of her own gay intimates, the weather, comfort, a host of considerations. I think Ann is wise in her generation, for she has the advantage every advertisement helps her nearer to her objective.

Neither Yankees Nor Cardinals Will Repeat If Tradition Holds

Leaders in Two Major Leagues on July 4 Are Winners of Pennants in September, According to Time-honored Reckoning, and Last Year's Champions Cannot Reach Top by Thursday; Ben Paschal's Timely Home Run Gives Yankees Victory Over Boston; National League Race Remains Unchanged.

The Fourth of July time-honored point for taking pennant soundings is close at hand and, if baseball tradition holds true, neither the New York Yankees nor the St. Louis Cardinals will repeat their major league championship victories of last year.

Baseball tradition has it that the leaders on July 4 are the pennant winners of late September. There have been exceptions to this rule but they have been surprisingly few and far between.

As the race stands now, neither the Yankees nor the Cardinals can reach the top of their respective leagues by July 4. The Yankees languish in third place in the American League, nine full games back of the league-leading Philadelphia Athletics. The Cardinals trail the Chicago Cubs, pace-setters of the National Circuit, by five games.

Whatever happens between now and Independence Day, the Athletics cannot be ousted from the American League lead. The Cubs' hold on to first place in the National League is not secure, Donie Bush's Pittsburgh Pirates trailing by only half a game.

A DEADLOCK

The National League situation remained in status quo yesterday as the Cubs and Cardinals, meeting in the league's only battle, struggled to a wild 11-11 deadlock called at the end of the sixth inning to allow the Cards to catch a train for Pittsburgh. Six pitchers—two from each team—struggled to give service in the shortened fray and among them granted twenty-nine safeties. Riggs Stephenson, Cubs' outfielder, was the batting star of the day. He crashed out two home runs and a double and drove in seven runs.

In the American League the Yankees barely escaped dropping back a little further in the race. Benny Paschal's pinch home run with Koenig on base in the seventh gave the champions a 3-2 verdict over the Boston Red Sox. Paschal's homer enabled the Yankees to share the spell that Billy Byrne had woven over them this season.

Byrne already had beaten the champions twice and seemed to be with the way to a third victory when Paschal came through. Herb Pennock, although he was out of the game when the winning runs were scored, Paschal being a pinch batsman for him.

LOCAL RIDER WINS EVENT

Low Rush Winner of Quarter-mile Sprint in Exciting Finish; Mccredy Injured

Maintaining a steady pace over the quarter-mile course, Low Rush, bike flash, led a fast field to win one of the most exciting races of the meet staged by the Sons of Canada at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday. He was clocked at under thirty-two seconds.

Leo Marchiori, Vancouver speed ace, carried off first honors in the mile open event, while Claude Peden won the mile race for boys under fourteen, and Elliot took first honors in the novice contest over the same distance.

The meet was marred by the painful accident to Dave Mccredy, local rider, who went down on the last turn of the quarter-mile event and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with a broken arm and bruises about the knees.

After staying with the field for three-quarters of the stretch, Rush pedaled his way to a fast finish in the quarter-mile race. Leo Marchiori came in three feet behind him.

In the mile event, Marchiori, Robbins, Rush and Irving drew ahead of the rest of the field after the half mile mark and rode in a bunch to the finish. Marchiori crossed the line scant few feet ahead of Robbins, with Maurice Irving finishing third.

In the first running of the final of the event, Low Rush placed second behind Marchiori and Leo Marchiori, but since the race was not completed within the time limit, it was ordered reridden.

Claude Peden, trained red-haired Victoria speedster, trailed the riders in the under fourteen mile event until the last lap. At this point he uncorked a burst of speed, crept up inside of the leader and finished across the line with a fair margin over Robbins, second-place rider. Doug Peden finished third.

Throughout the meet the boys showed plenty of speed and drew rounds of applause from the hundreds of spectators who watched them perform.

The complete results of the meet follow:
One mile, novice—1, Elliot; 2, Dick Blakey; 3, George Fitter.

One mile, boys under fourteen years—1, Claude Peden; 2, E. Roskelly; 3, Doug Peden.
One mile handicap, boys under sixteen years—1, Harold Davies; 2, Stevenson; 3, Dick Blakey.
Quarter-mile open, first heat—1, Low Rush; 2, Dave Mccredy; 3, Maurice Robbins.
Second heat—1, Leo Marchiori; 2, Maurice Irving; 3, Harold Davies.
Quarter-mile open, final—1, Low Rush; 2, Leo Marchiori; 3, Maurice Irving.
Two-mile handicap—1, Pete Tyson; 2, George Farmer; 3, Maurice Irving.
One mile open, first heat—1, Glen Robbins; 2, Low Rush; 3, Pete Tyson.
Second heat—1, Richard Jackson; 2, Maurice Irving; 3, Leo Marchiori.
One mile open, final—1, Leo Marchiori; 2, Glen Robbins; 3, Maurice Irving.

FIREMEN ARE EASY WINNERS

Poling out no less than six runs in the morning game, while they played first-class baseball in both fixtures the Vancouver Firemen, leaders of the Mainland League, defeated the Sons of Canada, of the Senior Amateur League, 14-4, and 9-2 in the two exhibitions played at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday.

Large crowds attended both games but the brand of ball was far from good, the losing team being unable to hold their own with the snappy Vancouver aggregation. The Firemen are beyond doubt one of the finest teams ever assembled in Vancouver and they gave the fans a little hint just how the game should be played.

In the morning game Johnny Kerr and Jack Curtis pitched for the Sons, but the Firemen took to their offerings like ducks to water. The centre field fence seemed no distance for the visiting sluggers and six balls went sailing over the wall during the nine innings. Nick Craig, Miller Thomson, Richardson and Trusolini all hit for the circuit Richardson getting two.

The visitors divided their pitching between three hurlers, Thompson starting. He was relieved by Lefty Symons, while Lefty Kaye finished the game. In the evening game Wes Stickney, of the Jokers team, occupied the box for the Sons and he was a little more successful in holding the visiting batsmen, although they appeared to score runs at will.

Taking the lead in the early innings the Firemen continued to boost their total and towards the finish just coasted home. In this game they divided the pitching duties between Larry Holden and Norman Geoghegan. Telosky and Richardson divided the catching duties for the Firemen between them.

Henley-on-Thames, July 2.—With the opening of the Royal Henley Regatta only two days away, the Canadian entrants slackened off in their preparations yesterday.
Joe Wright, Jr., diamond sculls holder, and Jack Guest, both from the Argonaut Club of Toronto, had two brief outings on the river but did not attempt any serious work.

SURPRISES RECORDED IN TENNIS

Fifty-five Matches Played Over Holiday Week-end in City Clay Court Tourney

The city clay court tennis championships got way to a splendid start over the week-end and holiday when fifty-five matches were played. To date none of the seeded players have fallen by the wayside, but a number of surprises have been recorded.
Jimmy Kesson, one of the home club's strongest men, fell before the improved Jack Locke, who won in three sets. It was a good match and both players showed up very well. The scores were 6-3, 5-7, 7-5.
Tim Matson took Lionel Huxtable to three sets before losing the final set. Huxtable finished strong.

A STIFF BATTLE

Dan Harrison gave Steve Jones a stiff battle, but the latter won out at the finish.
Marsh Gordon had a brief workout as did Gerald Cunningham, neither expecting himself.
One of the most noteworthy matches was that between Hogarth and Burden, the former winning in the third set.
Jack Locke continued his fine play when he encountered Hocking, but fell a little short of the mark in two sets.
Ferrals and Laybourne, C.P.R. club players, showed up to advantage in the game against Butler and Bird, whom they defeated in straight sets.

A GOOD MATCH

One of the outstanding matches yesterday occurred in the men's doubles when the Phillips brothers, George and Peter, took Jones and Bowden to the well in the third set, while their opponents were getting stronger.

Isaacs and Hocking, second in the seeded advance through two victories and now meet Jones and Bowden in the next round.
McCallum and Gordon, playing through champions, and Cunningham and Corfield, advanced through winning their first round matches in the men's doubles.

There were two outstanding ladies' doubles matches which went to the extra set before being decided. In the first match Doreen Swayne and Mona Miller won in three sets from Veldt Rithet and Jean Campbell, who won the middle set. The four players were in great form but the forehand driving of Doreen Swayne was outstanding.

Four players from the Hillcrest club in the second when Mrs. Poy Aymer and Miss Welch in three bitterly contested sets.

NASH '400'
The World in Motor Car Value

This is the Sedan you will buy, if you Compare in the $1400 Field

WE will not need to urge you to buy the Nash "400" Standard Six Sedan if you only compare it to other Sedans in its field.
First of all, it is a Nash, built in the traditional Nash manner, with precision workmanship in every part.
And second, it is a Nash "400", and that means something in today's line-up of motor cars.
It means more powerful, more durable, more enjoyable motor performance. The engine in this sedan is a new high compression type with 7 bearings instead of 3 or 4, with aluminum alloy (Invar strut) pistons instead of cast iron pistons, and with full pressure lubrication to every single bearing point. Even the connecting rods in this Nash engine are rifle drilled, to supply oil under pressure up to the wrist pin bearings.
Other "400" features which this car brings to you are the world's easiest steering—a luxury and refinement of interior decoration far beyond expectation at its price—size and capacity for five full grown passengers—riding ease attained by alloy steel springs individually designed for its size and weight, plus outboard mounted, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers.
And finally, no extra charge for bumpers, front and rear, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, spare tire lock and tire cover. The factory price includes everything except a spare tire—there's none of these other items, customarily charged for as "extras" at retail prices, to pay for, when you buy the Nash "400".

TAKES BLAME FOR MISHAP

Captain Says He Mistook New
Gasbuoy For Point Reyes
Light in Dense Fog

San Francisco, July 2.—Blame for the wreck of the steam schooner Hartwood, operated by the Hartwood Lumber Company, was accepted yesterday by Captain Carl M. Enstrom, master, who is alleged to have admitted to Captain J. K. Bulger of the United States Steamboat Inspectors, that he "missed the light and took my ship ashore. I'm sorry."

The Hartwood was wrecked on Point Reyes, fifty miles north of here, last Thursday night. Twenty-six lives were in peril by the disaster.

Captain Enstrom said he mistook the new gasbuoy eighteen miles south of Point Reyes for the Point Reyes light. Asked by Bulger if he had anything to say in his defence, Captain Enstrom said:

"I have passed Point Reyes 160 times with the Hartwood and always steered my course by the light. It's the first ship I ever lost. My lifeboats were in good order and I got everybody off."

SHIPS HERE TO LOAD FREIGHT

Four Vessels at Outer Docks
To-day Taking on Cargo

Four freighters were in port this morning loading and discharging cargo, three at the Ogden Point piers and one at the Rithet docks.

The Canadian National freighter Canadian Importer and the lumber carrier Glenworth commenced loading lumber at Ogden Point, both of them for the east coast. The Importer will take on 925,000 feet, while the Glenworth will load 1,250,000 feet. Both ships will be here two or three days.

The Japanese freighter Egypt Maru is alongside the grain elevator at Ogden Point taking on 1,000 tons of grain for Japanese ports. She arrived yesterday, and will clear for mainland ports early this evening.

At the Rithet piers the Holland-American vessel Grootendyk was loading and discharging freight, having arrived from European ports yesterday at noon. She is expected to clear for Vancouver at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

For discharge here the Grootendyk had 275 tons of general cargo, and for loading about 100 tons.

Another arrival at the Rithet piers yesterday, besides the President Lincoln, was the O.S.K. liner Alabama Maru, which docked about 10 o'clock, and sailed for Seattle at noon.

The Alabama brought in a good passenger list and nearly 4,000 tons of general cargo. For Victoria the ship had eighty-five tons of freight, four first class passengers, and ten steerage passengers.

Included in the heavy cargo for Seattle was a shipment of 1,500 bales of raw silk. Eight first-class passengers and forty-nine steerage passengers went on to Seattle.

Judge: "The plaintiff says he lent you a milk-pail, which you broke, and he claims damages."

Farmer Jones: "There's not a truthful word in what he says. In the first place, he didn't lend me a pail at all. Secondly, the pail was broken when I had it; and thirdly, the pail was whole when I gave it him back."

GREAT PROGRESS MARKS INDUSTRY OF ALL CANADA

H. B. Thomson Tells Kiwanis Club of Development of Recent Years

Canadian Trade Has Expanded Five Times as Much as U.S. Commerce

"Bringing the town and country together" was the subject of an address to-day by H. B. Thomson, Canada's war time food controller, at the luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Thomson remarked that Victoria appeared to be in somewhat of a backward stage regarding knowledge of Canada's progress. He cited progress of key industries which showed an expansion five times as great as that of comparable United States industries. This was a matter of congratulation to everyone in Canada, in view of the large per capita national war debt in Canada. Construction progress this year was forty per cent in advance of 1928, and the export trade of $1,388,772,075 showed a figure twelve times as great as in 1896. Exports to Europe in 1928 were $157,533,163, being more than ten times as large as in 1914. Oriental exports had increased to $77,500,407, or thirty-eight times in the same period.

Great strides in the iron and steel industry, used generally as a trade barometer, had been worth $3,347,000 in 1900, and in 1928 was worth $82,250,000, an increase of twenty-seven times, said Mr. Thomson.

British Columbia's progress was indicated by new construction in 1928, it being 96 per cent above 1927. The individual wealth of the people at $4,032 per head placed this Province ahead of all the other parts of Canada.

"Canada is a prosperous country," he said. "The question of the farmer being able to market his products is fundamental," the speaker said. "In every country of the world they are attacking this question," he said, telling of the Empire Marketing Board and its great work as a publicity bureau and sales agency for the Empire. The changes brought about in England had been notably successful, and any of the largest firms now feature Empire products.

The work of the Empire Marketing Board is a reciprocal proposition," he remarked, after noting that entry to Britain's markets would enable the Dominions to purchase more British goods.

Mr. Thomson told of the development of New Zealand's dairy industry, with nearly one dairy cow per head of population and eighteen sheep per inhabitant. He reviewed the strides made by Denmark in her progress from poverty to prosperity, and hoped for a like progress in the Irish Free State.

While Denmark exported products worth $300,000,000 to England, Ireland exported $150,000,000, the net export of the acre being $25 an acre, while Ireland net $7 an acre. Mr. Thomson congratulated the Kiwanis Club on its efforts towards encouragement of agriculture on Vancouver Island. He cited the history of egg production in the state of Washington, where in 1920 150 carloads were imported, while last year none were imported and over 1,500 carloads were exported, the industry being worth $20,000,000 in 1927.

Mr. Thomson believed the newly formed British Columbia Eggs Pool would prove a great forward step, and told of the similar association operating successfully in Washington, with a turn over of more than $15,000,000 and a premium market in New York City.

"Why should we not do the same thing in British Columbia?" he asked, suggesting the Kiwanis visit the city market and urge the city council to advertise the market.

"While it may conflict with a few stores, surely we are big enough to realize that the farmers must have facilities to sell their produce before they can purchase the goods they need," he said.

Increased production of butter was possible in British Columbia in view of the importation of 7,500,000 pounds in 1927. This would mean 2,500 more farmers to consume Canadian products, Mr. Thomson said.

Hugh Leigh moved the vote of thanks, remarking that conditions on Vancouver Island require diversified farming.

MAINLAND BOAT BEATS SIR TOM

Vancouver, July 2.—Lady Van, North Vancouver-built, and Vancouver-owned yacht, skippered by Captain E. F. Cribbe, won the second race of the Lipton Cup series at the international regatta here this morning, snatching victory from apparent defeat for Vancouver after the local favorite, the Lady Pat, Captain R. M. Maitland, was dismasted in a stiff sudden squall which swept the course.

CHERRY QUEEN HERE TO-NIGHT

The Cherry Queen, who has just finished reigning over Chilliwack's third annual cherry carnival, arrived in Nanaimo at noon to-day on her way to Victoria. She and her princesses had lunch at Nanaimo and then started in their private cars with attendants on the journey down the Island to Victoria.

For to-morrow Mr. Warren has arranged a

Meetings are open to the public and all interested are invited.

In the tenth and last recital of the season at the Columbia School of Music a very delightful programme was rendered. Those taking part in vocal solos were Miss Dorothy Hartree, contralto "old maid" of the Musical Festival, who sang "O Men From the Fields" (Hughes); Miss Ora Jealousie, who received honorable mention in the recent examinations of the Royal Academy; Miss Edna Luney, Miss Eileen Foster, Miss Doris Rawlins and Miss R. M. Humphries. Piano solos were played by Miss Doris Rawlins, Roy Gibbs, Desmond Burdon-Murphy, Jean Mayhew, Miss Laura Lee, L.A.B.; Miss Gertrude Straight, Miss Hilda Harding and Brian Burdon-Murphy. Miss Beth Graham and George Tate gave violin solos and took part in a violin trio with Brian Burdon-Murphy, whose brother, Desmond, acted as accompanist.

Mrs. J. F. MacLean, traveling deaconess for the Presbyterian Church, last week visited Knox Church. On Sunday evening she spoke on deaconess work in British Columbia telling of remote places visited, Sunday schools organized and families visited. Monday morning she was telling of the work of the deaconess. Tuesday afternoon the subject described was "Welfare and Welcome," and looking after the newly arrived strangers in the country, visiting the sick or those unable to attend service, organizing Sunday services when possible, and missionary work. The speaker came in touch with the church. Mrs. MacLean was warmly thanked for her visit and talk.

Poor Boy Spent Money On Second-Hand Books

Richard Henry Stoddard, a New England boy, came of a very poor family. When he was fifteen his mother, not satisfied with the way he was getting on in school, told him his help was needed and he must go to work. She did not realize that, though he learned slowly, he really loved to study.

Richard found a job as an errand boy and after that as a clerk in a little office. His wages were a dollar a week, and out of that his mother gave him fifty cents every month to spend as he wished.

To Richard there was only one way to spend money, and that was on books. All his spare time he spent in little shops where second-hand books might be found. He looked through all the stock, to get the most he could for his money. The booksellers came to know the shabby, but earnest, lad, and sometimes they would sell him books for just a little less than they usually asked for them. They were always willing to put books away for him, and to hold them until that glad day of the month when he had his fifty cents and could carry his books home.

When he was grown, Richard Henry Stoddard, born 104 years ago to-day, became a scholarly writer, editor and lecturer.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Rocking Chair

(Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

By HOWARD R. GARIS

One day, instead of hopping away from his hollow stump bungalow soon after breakfast, to go adventuring, Uncle Wiggily sat on the porch sort of lazy like and don't care.

"What's the matter?" asked his wife. "Aren't you going off to-day to see what happens?"

"Thank you, no," answered Mr. Longears. "I feel sort of tired and as if I needed a rest."

"Dear me!" said Mrs. Longears to Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy who was putting a new dress of yellow butter on a slice of bread so it would be all ready to go to a party in case this was one "dear me!" said Mrs. Longears. "I hope Wiggily isn't going to be ill."

"I think he has been hopping around too fast, looking for adventures this past week," squaked the muskrat lady housekeeper. "He needs a rest. I'll take a rocking chair out on the porch and let him sit in that. It will do him good."

A little later Nurse Jane carried a rocking chair out to the rabbit gentleman on the porch and said:

"Here you are, Uncle Wiggily. Rest and rock yourself and you will soon feel better."

"Thank you," answered Mr. Longears. "You are very kind."

So he sat and rocked to and fro on the porch, half dozing in the warm sunshine and listening to the distant shouts of the animal boys and girls who were playing in the woods and fields near by. For it was the Long Vacation and they didn't need to go to school.

Now it happened that the Skillery Scallery Alligator, having nothing special to do that day, thought he would take a walk and see if he could find anything to eat, for he was very hungry.

So he crawled along, sometimes walking on his hind legs, dragging his double jointed tail after him, and at last he reached Uncle Wiggily's bungalow in time to see Nurse Jane bring out the rocking chair. The Gator also heard what was said.

And when the Skillery Scallery Alligator, with the double jointed tail, heard Nurse Jane speak about Uncle Wiggily being tired and needing a rest, Mr. Alligator thought to himself:

"Ah ha! This is going to be easy for me! If Uncle Wiggily is so tired and needs a rest he can't run away from me. I'll just crawl up on the porch and catch him."

At least he crawled up on the porch but he didn't at once catch Uncle Wiggily. For the Alligator loved to tease and when he saw how surprised the rabbit was, and noticed that Uncle Wiggily was, really, too tired to get up out of the rocking chair, then the Bad Chap thought he would have some fun.

"I have come to see you, Uncle Wiggily," growled the Gator.

"I'm not going to say I thank you, for I don't," spoke the rabbit. "I'd just as soon you hadn't stopped in. What do you want?"

"Something to eat," growled the Gator, looking with hungry eyes at Uncle Wiggily. "Aren't you going to be polite enough to ask me to sit down?"

How he did love to tease rabbits—that Gator.

"Oh, well, sit down if you want to," said Uncle Wiggily, tilting to and fro in his rocking chair. "Excuse me for not getting up. I'm tired."

"So I heard!" chuckled the Gator. "So much the better for me."

Uncle Wiggily was going to ask what that meant when he happened to look and he saw that the Bad Chap sat down on the porch the Bad Chap's long tail was near one of the rockers of the chair.

"Ha! Ha!" thought Uncle Wiggily

To-morrow's Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1929

Kindly stars dominate to-day, according to astrology, which reads in the configuration much that is encouraging to humanity. Women are supposed to be especially favored under this star, which makes for all the beautiful experiences of life.

This is a day for serious love affairs and one in which it is rather dangerous to indulge in flirtation.

Many weddings will follow from romances begun under this direction of the stars, astrologers predict.

The seers prophesy a decided revolution from the post-war silliness of retreating parties and a reaction toward true sentiment. Girls again are to command reverence and to be the subjects of real devotion. It is foretold.

This should be a lucky wedding day that carries with it promise of prosperity unless deceit is practiced.

Late to-day there is an aspect supposed to increase suspicion and to encourage misapprehensions of many sorts.

Jealousy and envy may be prevalent while this rule prevails, and girls should be careful not to harbor discontent.

Cross purposes in national as well as domestic affairs should be avoided to-day, which seems to threaten misunderstandings and even quarrels.

Divorces will be numerous and marriage mistakes many all through the year which is to be a turning point in social problems. Persons whose birthdate it is probably will enjoy a sense of security through the coming year. Friends will be many.

Children born on this day may be unusually talented. The subjects of this sign are usually exceedingly popular, and many are painters or orators, for the gift of expression is theirs.

John Singleton Copley, famous artist, was born on this day, 1771. Others who claimed this as a birthday were Otis Alnsworth Skinner, early author, 1807; and Samuel Huntington, signer of the Declaration of Independence. King Haakon was born, July 3, 1572.

to himself. "Here's where I play a little trick."

So he began to rock to and fro as fast as he could and, inch by inch, the chair moved closer and closer to the Gator. Until, all of a sudden, on the next swing Uncle Wiggily rocked on the double jointed tail of the Skillery Scallery Alligator and Oh, such a howl!

"My tail! My tail! You've rocked on my beautiful tail!" cried the Gator, jumping up and pulling it out from under the chair so hard that he upset Uncle Wiggily, rocker and all.

"You've crushed my lovely tail!" "Oh, don't tell me that!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily, picking himself up. He did not need to be told for he knew it full well.

"Oh, what a pain!" howled the Gator, and, holding the end of his tail in his front paws he hopped away on his hind paws, quite forgetting about being hungry. Which was a good thing for Mr. Longears.

Then the rabbit sat in his chair again and rocked himself to sleep. And if the handkerchief will leap through the button hole of the red dress like a circus lion jumping into a paper loop, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Fourth of July.

THE LAUGH LINE

"Which is the most valuable—a golden sovereign or a £1 note?"

"The note, because when you put it in your pocket you can double it."

"Quite right. And when you take it out you find it in creases."

"John, you have been drinking my brandy."

"I have not, sir."

"Are you quite sure?"

"Quite sure, I could not get the cork out."
